

APPENDIX A

PRESENT SCHOOLS OF SANTA CRUZ COUNTY

As shown above, Santa Cruz County is divided into 10 school districts--or 11 or 12, depending on how you're counting. The Cabrillo Community College District takes in the whole county. Those districts within the dotted line comprise the Santa Cruz City High School District, i. e., students in the districts of Scott's Valley, Pacific, Bonny Doon, Live Oak, Soquel, Happy Valley, and Mountain, having no high schools of their own, attend high schools in the Santa Cruz City District.

(Note: for geographical and administrative convenience, those few students residing in a narrow northeastern strip of Santa Cruz County, as shown in the map, attend school administered by the Lakeside District of Santa Clara County. For the same reason of convenience, a small part of northern Monterey County, containing three elementary schools, falls within the administrative jurisdiction of the Pajaro Valley Unified School District.)

Four of the districts shown in the map--Pacific, Bonny Doon, Happy Valley, and Mountain--are "multi-graded" districts; they are sparsely populated, and each has only one small elementary school within its boundaries.

Educational facilities within the county include 36 elementary schools, nine intermediate schools, nine high schools, eight special education facilities for the handicapped, the Cabrillo College campus, the campus of the University of California at Santa Cruz, and over 40 private schools. Approximately 30,475 public school students are enrolled in kindergarten through the 12th grade. Cabrillo has an enrollment of about 9,600.
